

実用英語演習Ⅱ(その1)

2 units 3rd-year(1st semester)

Ayami Yoshida · ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR / DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SCIENCES

Target See the General Syllabus for Practical English

Outline Works at this class will offer students to improve their English listening comprehension, heavily based on dictation training. Episodes of TV dramas, originally aired in English-speaking countries, are used for the training, to give students some opportunities in intensive listening of so-called "natural speed spoken English" and in proper understanding of the essential points of each drama episode. Students are also required to acquire a good vocabulary through drama episodes they watch for listening training. All the tasks for this class is computer-oriented and students have to submit all the tasks and tests, using computer programs at PC classroom.
